

Craft Your Brand. Personal branding talks for high flying executives, managers and corporate teams.

Jonny was engaging, informative and above all useful! His approach was accessible and cut through a lot of the myths about Personal Branding. I'd highly recommend his services. - Simon Davies, Managing Director of Striding

Your team.
But refined.
Empowered. And
more alive.

Engage executives, higher management and business professionals on personal branding, online presence and brand management.

With almost a decade of experience in the field and the success of both business and personal brands, Jonny speaks passionately from experience to help your people navigate the world of brands, effective stories and creating impact through effective personal branding and leverage of your companies team.

Jonny's most popular talk, entitled "Craft Your Brand" focuses on how companies should and can be focusing on developing the personal brands of their staff to encourage a more energised culture, clearer communication between members and teams and more focussed productivity across the board.
